EVENT DESCRIPTION: Given the importance of STEM to Iowa's economy and quality of life, STEM Day at the Capitol has become an annual tradition as a means for communicating to Iowa's lawmakers the many impactful ways that the excitement and opportunity of STEM are being brought to youth. It's a dazzling array of in-school, out-of-school and lifetime learning displays of many of our state's crown jewel assets in STEM, ranging from the Girl Scouts to our universities, from 4-H to the Iowa Academy of Science, from K-12 to our community colleges, and from nonprofits to industries and trade organizations. Governor Branstad and Governor's STEM Advisory Council co-chair and University of Northern Iowa President Allen along with ex officio Council members Senator Chelgren, Senator Schoenjahn, Representative Byrnes and Representative Steckman are scheduled to speak, reinforcing their commitment to STEM education.
